Vogeler Trial Ended, Verdict Due Tomorrow

American Confessed Without Duress, He Says; Asks Mercy

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Feb. 20—(AP)—The trial of U. S. Businessman Robert A. Vogeler and six others on spy charges ended today, with the prosecution demanding "the most severe punishment." Court was adjourned until tomorrow, when the verdict will be read.

Vogeler, in an abject "last word statement" to the people's court, declared he had confessed to the charges without "any pressure or insults."

"I know I have to suffer punishment," the assistant vice president of the International Telephone and Telegraph Co., said, "but hope that the court will consider my request for a mild sentence and also the argumentation of my lawyer."

The attorney for the 38-year-old businessman admitted to the court that Vogeler's activities "caused tears and blood," but he said Vogeler's deeds cannot be considered from the same standpoint as similar deeds by Hungarian citizens.

Prosecutor Gyula Alapi, the same man who prosecuted Josef Cardinal Mindszenty and former Vice Premier Laszlo Rajk, called Vogeler a great spy whose punishment should be commensurate with his deeds.

Alapi told the people's court that Vogeler "is a spy who lost and was unmasked."

Alapi made the charge after nine witnesses had paraded to the stand to testify that Vogeler and his co-defendants were guilty of sabotage and spying for the United States intelligence services.

It could not be learned immediately what possible penalties the defendants face.

Vogeler, on trial with six co-defendants, asked for a mild sentence Saturday after pleading guilty. He said he used his business connections as a cover for professional intelligence activities and that nearly all American businessmen in Eastern Europe were required to turn in intelligence reports to the U. S.

Six co-defendants, who confessed to similar charges, were Edgar Sanders, a British official in the Standard Electric Co., a Hungarian subsidiary of I. T. & T.; Imre Geiger, Hungarian manager of the company; Zoltan Rado, a section chief in the Hungarian ministry of heavy trade; Edina Doery, hotel barmaid and telephone operator; Rev. Istvan Justh, a Roman Catholic priest, and Klemen Dokokoa, chief accountant for the Standard Co.

Alapi has asked "severest punishment" for Geiger and Rado.

Vogeler's friends abroad have expressed disbelief in the confession he recited in court. They said his calm manner was not in character and some of his testimony did not square with known facts.)

U. S. Pushing Planning For Atomic Subs

Expect Appropriation Request To Advance Reactor Propulsion

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20—(AP)—An informed source disclosed today that the United States is pushing plans to start construction of what it hopes will be the world's first atomic-powered submarine.

This source said discussions are underway between the Navy and the Electric Boat Corp. at Groton, Conn., in regard to construction of a submarine hull in which could be installed an atomic energy reactor that may be developed by the Atomic Energy Commission. The company built many of the Navy's submarines in World War II.

The discussions were described as so far advanced that quite likely Congress will be asked to add an appropriation for the work to the 1951 Navy budget for the year beginning July 1. Some lawmakers said a week ago a race between the U. S. and Russia to be first to develop an atomic-powered sub was a possible complication in efforts to produce a hydrogen bomb.

The Atomic Energy Commission in a report last month revealed that considerable progress has been made toward developing reactors suitable for submarine or ship propulsion. Study is also being made on a proposed reactor for aircraft.

Nuclear reactors are machines for putting energy to work under controlled conditions. In contrast, an atomic bomb explosion is instantaneous, an uncontrollable nuclear reaction.

Under controlled conditions, scientists say, the amount of nuclear fuel that is destroyed in a small fraction of a second by an explosion may be utilized for months and perhaps even for years to give off useful energy.

Some lawmakers believe that a nuclear-engine submarine might well revolutionize Naval warfare. Such a sub might have an almost unlimited range of available parliamentary seats.

Bevin made his U. S. announcement last night before a political audience in suburban Croydon. He said:

"We are already discussing with the United States the situation which may arise (when the Marshall plan ends). We are taking every possible step in order that there will be no economic crisis and catastrophe and to ensure that we move steadily from one system to the other which is what America wants to see—Europe on its own feet and with its own dignity contributing once again to the great civilization whose cradle she rocked and developed over so many centuries."

"We are working hard," he added "to see whether we can bring about a new payment scheme in exchange which will not involve us in this gold and dollar business, and which will not cut across our own commonwealth and overseas territories."

Over the weekend both Laborites and Conservatives accused each other of promoting stunts in an effort to stampede the voters. The Laborites concentrated their fire on 75-year-old Winston Churchill, who spearheads the Tory campaign.

Churchill's proposal that the West should undertake high level talks with Russia drew the heaviest fire. Bevin called it a stunt.

Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison assailed the Churchill plan as "badly thought out" and said "it was a pity to drop this proposition into an election campaign."

Josiah B. Martin, Sr., 65, of 1294 E. Third st., controller of the Mullins Mfg. Corp., and a prominent Salem citizen, died suddenly of a heart seizure Saturday evening at about 7 while driving to Florida for a vacation.

Building Activity

Public Demand Responsible
For Aiding To Economy Home

The "Economy House" has grown up. It was born in early 1949 as a basic cottage to meet the demand for a modern home within the reach of most family budgets. But when people saw it they wanted this and that added, so during the year it began to grow.

Launched with the blessing of the Federal Housing Administration and championed by builders who saw it as private industry's challenge to public housing, it was a house with a ground area of 24 by 32 feet or thereabouts, covering 768 square feet. This was enough to accommodate two bedrooms, kitchen, bath, living room and dining alcove. Where local building codes permitted, the house was built without a basement. Where buyers' acceptance permitted, the roof pitch was lowered to save further costs.

But as 1949 went on, and needs of growing families were expressed, expansion attics and basement storage space came into demand. Because of the preference for basement heating plants in northern states, the first enlargement of the basic plan provided a cellar.

Soon an architect pointed out by enlarging the minimum house 20 per cent the total cost would be raised only 10 per cent.

Lots in the new section will face Maple st. An extension of Fair, Jefferson and Adams streets, south to a new proposed street which will run east and west also is planned. Lots in this addition will have 70 and 75-foot frontage.

Capel plans to have the necessary grading and sewers extended in the early spring and lots will be available for building soon. This area will be restricted. It is served by McKinley and Reilly schools and the city buses which cover the Centennial Park area.

Architects point out that in localities where the basic "economy house" could be built for less than $7,000, and its brother with a basement could be built for around $7,500, this complete six-room model can be built for less than $8,000.

This compact six-room plan combines all the popular features of larger homes and is attractive and modern in all details.

Any type of heating plant can be used, as well as different materials, without making the cost too high. It is designed to meet FHA bank and building department requirements. The combined living areas of the first and second floors is 1,150 square feet.

Allotment Planned

A new allotment is being planned in the southeast section of Salem on the site of the old Fairgrounds. Burt C. Capel, local realtor, is developing the allotment. Blueprints are now in the hands of the City Planning Commission.

One of two houses will be built by Capel this summer and work on the streets will get underway as soon as the go-ahead sign is given by the commission. Adjacent to this allotment is a group of lots on Maple st. where several homes either have been, or are in the process of being constructed.

Plant Makes Changes

Changes are being made in the Electric Furnace plant research room to accommodate the installation of a research furnace.

Construction plans call for the moving of a large rest room to another section of the plant and placing of concrete foundations for the new furnace.

The company is erecting a pilot annealing furnace which is gas and electrically heated. It will be used for work and study of ferrous and non-ferrous strip operations.

Workmen also are changing the large electrical transformers to serve the furnace.

Sponseller Construction is doing the rearranging inside the rooms and Starbuck Brothers are installing the venting system to carry off heat and gasses. Electric Furnace workmen are handling the erection of the furnace.

British Dollar Problem Returns

Must Settle Politics Before Talks Begin

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20—(UP)—The British and their dollar problems will be back in Washington before many more months.

This may cost the United States more than last fall's round of dollar talks. At that time, the United States, Canada and Great Britain attacked "fringe" issues.

The "fringe" program, plus devaluation of the pound sterling, has helped ease Britain's dollar shortage—but not enough. Both American and British sources agree on that. They also agree that more dollar talks will be needed urgently as soon as domestic politics in Britain and the United States allow.

British officials cannot act until after the British vote Thursday, and a new government—either Laborite or Conservative—is formed. Then American officials will start getting skittish because of this fall's congressional elections.

One reason is that the British may want another loan—$2,000,000 to $4,000,000,000. Or the British may seek direct aid for the sterling area—a kind of Marshall plan under some other name.

The British and Americans will have to wrestle with Britain's biggest single dollar problem—the so-called "sterling balances." Great Britain now owes Commonwealth countries about $9,000,000,000 worth of devalued pounds for services received during the war.

These countries have been using the sterling balances to buy goods that Britain otherwise might sell for cash.

The British, when they come to Washington, will want the United States to do something to relieve this drain on British production. They will argue that they cannot cut off the flow of their goods to India, for instance, without causing a drop in the standard of living there and inviting Communists to take over.

British exports to the United States started after the pound was devalued in September. Britain also has improved its dollar reserves, but they still are about 15 per cent below what the British call a "safe" level. And the effects of devaluation's shot-in-the-arm are wearing off.

It's a BUICK — it's a RIVIERA — AND IT'S SEDAN PRICED !

No there's no mistake.

This is the Riviera, that super-smart new body type introduced last year by Buick that combines the swift racy look of a convertible with steel-top permanence.

And it's Riviera on a SUPER chassis—which means not only all the good solid Buick features like soft coil springs, torque-tube drive, and Dynaflow Drive* as optional equipment, but the lift and life of Buick's very newest power plant, the F-263.

But the climax is spelled out on the price tags.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

For this stellar beauty actually lists at a dollar less than our regular SUPER 4-door Sedan with the same equipment.

For sedan prices you can step out in the very last word in automotive styling.

For sedan prices you can have long, sleek, convertible lines—plus a stout steel top and all-weather snugness.

You'll drive a car that opens wide for its full length, without even a doorpost to interfere—a car that gives a horizon-sweeping view to the rear through Buick-developed wrap-around rear windows.

Naturally, these beauties are going to move fast. Production is not without its limits.

So if you want to be doubly smart—smart in your going and smart in your buying—see your Buick dealer quick—to get an order signed.

One World, Many Parts

BENEATH the glittering generalities about further efforts to negotiate a settlement of international problems is a thought which will disturb a great many people as it comes into general discussion.

Walter Lippman referred to it in a recent column in these words: "As we contemplate the unhappy present, we shall have to ask ourselves whether we do not prefer two or three of four worlds to none at all. We shall have to ask ourselves whether the classic method of settling conflicts (balance of power) may not be the only method. I believe it is, and that the new approach which the people of the world are demanding will bring us to the rediscovery of the older approach which we abandoned before mankind was ready to live as one in one world."

The purpose of new negotiations, if they were undertaken, would be to discover a substitute for the proposals which haven't panned out in preceding negotiations. The substitute in its general outline would be something to the effect that continued attempts to organize nations in a pattern contrary to their inclinations must lead to a disastrous war and failure for all concerned. Therefore, the argument would run, it would be better to concede defeat on that score and make a live-and-let-live agreement. The Kremlin would have to give up its credo of worldwide revolution. Socialists, whether in the Kremlin or Downing Street, would have to give up their credo of worldwide socialism. The United States would have to give up its credo of worldwide self-government. No one would be satisfied, but everybody's chances of security would be improved.

This is what is behind proposals to undertake new negotiations. The thought would be disturbing, particularly to those who believed—as nearly all of us did believe to some degree—that defeat of the Axis powers in World War II would remove the obstacles to international accord.

Everybody Was Astonished

MANY READERS, it's safe to guess, looked a second time at the story about the head cashier of a Jackson, O., bank who admitted taking $102,000 from bank funds over a 27-year period to supplement his salary, reported to be $3,000 a year.

What they looked at the second time was the information that he had been active in community affairs. Unlike most embezzlers, who betray their trust in the hope of making a financial killing, this one apparently was interested only in holding up his head in a community where he was a respected figure.

The story makes it pretty plain that everybody was astonished when the embezzlement was revealed. But the astonishment was a good many years late in coming out publicly. Because there must have been a great amount of private astonishment over the ability of a head cashier to hold up his end of the civic bargain on a salary which was about the same as the current national average for all workers in manufacturing industries in the United States.

A Mild Form Of Madness

JUST AS there are a few diehards who never have opened their pores to the baseball virus, there are people who never have shared the mild form of madness that gets out of bounds during basketball tournaments in this part of the country.

They don't understand that the tournaments are the climax of America's greatest spectator sport; that thousands of young men who can do amazing things with a basketball have been dreaming since last November of doing the most amazing thing of all—winning the championship. They don't understand that basketball is the one athletic pastime in which a school with a handful of male pupils has an outside chance of beating the biggest school in the area. They don't understand that basketball, which is a game played indoors all winter long, night after night, has more devoted followers who know more about it than any other sport in the nation can claim.

The whole business comes to a climax at tournament time, which is now. For the next few weeks, nothing will be more important to basketball players and their fans than a good showing—and victory if possible. No harm can come to their madness even when it rises to fever pitch. They always recover. And in the meantime it's wonderful. It means, among other things, that springtime is here at last.

Cancelled Without Notice

THE TROUBLES which have plagued the Long Island railroad came to a terrible climax with last Friday night's head-on collision at Rockville Center. The 30 lives that were lost in the wreck itself, plus the scores of serious and minor injuries sustained by passengers on the colliding trains will strike what may be the final blow at the division's trembling financial structure.

The Long Island is a paradox in public transportation—a railroad so indispensable that no one knows what to do with it. Thousands of Long Island residents couldn't live without it, yet about a year ago many of them formed a protest group to explain why they couldn't live with it. The Pennsylvania system, its owner, is geared primarily to the function of freight railroading and sometimes has seemed to regard the Long Island as a mother hen regards a duckling in her brood—how did you get in here?

The error which brought two speeding passenger trains together Friday night in a head-on collision probably will precipitate a crisis on the Long Island, by virtue of the magnitude of the wreck. Up to now, the railroad's troubles always have been, bothersome but never climactic. But the worst train wreck in the history of the New York area's complex railroad system is more than just another headache.

Cheap Town Wanted

By Hal Boyle

ANYBODY GOT a used town for sale—cheap?

Burl Ives, the big, bearded ballad singer, is in the market for a second-hand town, in good condition, if it has a mountain or two around it and the price is right.

He'd like it for a purpose—to see if he can build a community where they could come, either to live or spend a vacation, and develop their talents.

They'd sing folk songs themselves, learn square dances—"they're ten times more fun than ballroom dancing"—and paint, make pottery, do leather work, weaving or any other type of handicraft.

"The big need today is self-expression just for the fun of it," he said. "The trouble is now if a kid does show a little talent of any kind, his parents right away want to put him in the entertainment business."

Burl said that if he couldn't afford to buy a town he'd start out with a dude ranch, one "without any phone atmosphere." He hasn't decided what to name his village yet, but it definitely won't be "Culture City."

"I hate that word culture," Ives said, making a face through his whiskers. "It started as an honest-to-God word, but it has lost its strength. It is already 'pink tea' and has a curse on it."

JUST HOW he'll find time to develop his project, Burl doesn't know. Last year he gave 131 concerts and 150 benefit performances, made 75 radio and television appearances, sang four weeks of hotel engagements, appeared in one movie and three plays, recorded 20 folk songs, learned to fly an airplane and finished the first draft of his second book, "Capra Corner."

This would keep the average fat man thin. But Burl not only gained weight on the schedule, he found time to indulge in his hobbies, sailing, photography and amateur painting.

"I travel so much that about the only thing I can paint is the view from hotel windows," he said. "I always ask for an outside room." His other pleasures are good food, good beer, good cigars and good talk.

"All I need to get fun is to have something to do that gets me excited—and they keep coming along. I get a lot of fun out of living."

Right now he's engaged in his annual diet to cut his weight from about 300 down to 240. When friends warn him, his present pace will kill him, Burl says:

"Well, nothing shortens life more than living."

Snake Eyes--

The ECA Load

By PETER EDSON

Europeans Still Don't Carry Their Share

WASHINGTON

ECONOMIC Co-operation Administrator Paul Hoffman goes before Congress Feb. 21, to ask for next year's Marshall Plan funds. Last year it took Mr. Hoffman from January to August to get his dough. He asked for $5,800,000,000. What he got was $4,800,000,000.

This year's ECA budget calls for $3,100,000,000. There's no telling what he'll get, but the hatchet men are ready and waiting to cut him down.

No one but a demon auto salesman would stick at making his sale the way Mr. Hoffman has. Probably no one but a demon auto salesman could get as much for ECA as he gets, even after the cuts.

The one big thing that Mr. Hoffman and the ECA have been working for is little understood. It is the preservation of western civilization. That means it is a struggle against world communism. If communism wins, western civilization will disappear. In its place will be substituted a semi-barbaric Oriental civilization. That is why this battle has to be fought in western Europe first—not in the Orient.

In the law which Congress passed to set up ECA, two objectives were stated. One was to aid European recovery. The other was to promote European unity.

THE FIRST of these objectives has been coming along pretty well. The total output of goods and services in the 18 Marshall Plan countries was valued at $155,000,000,000 in 1938. In 1947 it was down to $138,000,000,000. Last year it was $164,000,000,000. This is an 11½ percent increase in two years, a 6½ percent increase over prewar, with all figures calculated at 1948 prices.

One of the most frequent charges thrown against ECA is that the Europeans are loafing, living lush off of American aid. This may be the impression of congressional junketeers, who have the plush carpets rolled out for them, or for American night club tourists who hit the hot spots. What the figures show is that consumption of food, clothing, etc., by private consumers was only $1,000,000,000 higher in 1949 than the $114,000,000,000 of what they have is 25 months.

It's Not Compulsory

By TRUMAN TWILL

A FEW WORDS are in order at this time about a situation growing out of the popularity of television. The few words are: It is not compulsory to have a television set.

This statement seems necessary in view of the defensive attitude taken by people who don't have television sets. They are not under any compulsion to explain why they don't have them. It is not necessarily a case of sour grapes; they really may not want television sets.

A large number of taxpayers also make mistakes in reporting their income. Mostly they put in too little income although some have made the mistake of reporting their tax refunds as income.

It is not proper to speak of heart disease as a single problem. There are many conditions which cause difficulty. Heart disease caused by rheumatic fever, usually in childhood, is one of the problems. Heart disease caused by hardening of the arteries in later life is another. Finally, among the most important causes of heart disease is high blood pressure of unknown origin.

At present the American Heart Association is conducting a campaign to obtain funds to permit more research on the causes, prevention, and treatment of these diseases. The money thus raised is spent principally on supporting research by means of which alone can we hope for some real solution to this killer.

The objectives of this campaign and the purposes towards which the funds are put are in keeping with the best traditions of medical knowledge.

Central heating created its own little band of skeptics who doubted that it would improve the lot of man measurably, and there still are people who prefer to use refrigerators stoked with ice instead of machinery. There was resistance to the tin can when it was introduced, and to this day some skeptics wince at the idea of "cold storage meat."

Millions of perfectly normal people don't go to the moving pictures. There are people living who never saw Shirley Temple, Will Rogers, or W. C. Fields—and they are none the worse for it. Some men prefer not to play golf, poker, smoke cigars and tell off-color stories, and some of them are pretty good fellows.

There are stubborn characters who never learned to play mah jong, flich, bridge, lotto, or gin rummy and now are taking a rain check on canasta. There are people who never have been to Niagara Falls, scratched a ticket in an election contest, used a toothpaste sold under a trade name, violated a traffic regulation or held out their hand for federal pay.

It takes time to get everybody lined up and pointed in the same direction in this nation. There have been myriads of human beings who refused to take Cellulose, Marxist materialism, hair oil, short hair for women, exorbitant taxes, pop-up bread toasters, low-cut shoes, view windows and a lot of other assorted "esentials" of modern living on anyone's say-so. They insisted on the right to hang back until convinced in their own minds that ball-point pens, peg-top trousers, Princess Eugenie hats, two cars in every garage and the more abundant life were here to stay and therefore indispensable to happiness. And sometimes they turned out to be the beneficiaries of their own caution. At least there is no case on record where unbearable hardship was inflicted as a result of being slow on the uptake. Which has nothing to do with television but does have some bearing on the reason why a few of us sticks-in-the-mud will continue to while away our spare time with stereopticon slides.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

THE GOVERNMENT drive on gambling is well-timed... the rule is "when plagued with domestic or foreign situations take a strong stand against sin."

Going to be fun though, when the attorney general raids the Internal Revenue Department which collected $20,000,000 in taxes on slot machines last year.

The Internal Revenue Department doesn't claim that a slot machine is legal but will admit that it's profitable.

There's some error in the books though... the department says it receipts from all sources are one billion $80 million under last year but I'm sure I sent my check.

One fellow wants to know if the government clamps down on slot machines and horse race parlors can it also close the marriage license window... claims it's the biggest gamble of all.

But there's no law against putting two bucks on a pretty nose... although eventually there'll be a federal tax on it no doubt.

Then shall he give the rain of thy seed, that thou shalt sow the ground withal; and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat and plenteous: in that day shall thy cattle feed in large pastures.—Isaiah 30:23.

It's easier to stick to a diet if you just remember that figures don't lie.

The sort of a labor law we really need is one that will keep the modern kids from working their parents to death.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20—(AP)—Willie Hoppe, the perennial world champion, and Willie Mosconi still rule the cue ranks.

They were forced into playoffs last night before nailing down their world billiards titles.

The 62-year-old Hoppe retained his three-cushion crown with a 50-28 win in 58 innings over Joe Chamco of Mexico City.

Mosconi, the Barrington, N. J., wizard, booked his fifth world's title in the pocket billiards division in a playoff with Irving Crane of Binghamton, N. Y.

Meet Indiana In Home Final

Bucks Stomp Wildcats Saturday For 9-1 Mark

CHICAGO, Feb. 20—(AP)—Ohio State can clinch at least a share of the Big Ten basketball title tonight with a win over Indiana and can gain full possession of it with an assist from Purdue.

After running a 9-1 mark with a 68-46 romp over Northwestern Saturday, the Buckeyes complete their home league schedule as hosts to the third-place Hoosiers (6-3) and conclude the regular campaign next Monday at Michigan.

Purdue, tied with Northwestern for last place, invades Wisconsin tonight. An upset would stamp the Badgers with three defeats with three games to play and pass the title outright to Ohio State, unless the Buckeyes lose both of their last two contests.

Only other league engagement tonight sends Iowa (4-5) to Minnesota (3-5).

On Saturday, Wisconsin is at Illinois (5-4), Minnesota (3-5) at Purdue and Iowa (4-5) at Indiana.

Gene Brown tallied 22 points and Dick Schnittker 18 in Ohio State's win over Northwestern Saturday.

Illinois, behind Wally Osterkorn's 28 point production, downed Michigan 70-60. Don Rehfeldt poured through 25 points as Wisconsin rallied for a 53-44 triumph over Iowa. Indiana wiped out a 31-23 halftime deficit to whip Purdue 60-50.

Rehfeldt raised his league leading scoring average to 23.1 points through eight games (Iowa's Murray Wier averaged 22.6 in setting the conference 12 game scoring record of 272 points in 1948). Schnittker is second in the chase with 20.6 while Osterkorn of Illinois replaced Minnesota's Whitey Skoog in third with 18.

Holy Cross Record Reveals 22 Victories

NEW YORK, Feb. 20—(AP)—Unbeaten Holy Cross, the nation's No. 1 college basketball power, is the first team in more than 10 years to roll up 22 straight victories.

Not since 1939 has any team gone through its first 22 games without a setback. In that season, Long Island University recorded 24 consecutive triumphs without a defeat, a mark Holy Cross can tie by downing Boston College tomorrow night and Brown next Saturday.

The Crusaders, top-ranking quintet in the Associated Press poll, also can be the first major team in six years to finish with a spotless record. Army's 1944 squad (15-0) was the last to turn the elusive trick, according to figures of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

However, Boston College figures to be tough for Holy Cross. The Eagles, though sporting an unimpressive 10-6 record, upset highly regarded Villanova Saturday and now are out to avenge an early-season 93-46 shellacking by Holy Cross.

Six new managers were signed for the 1950 season of the eight-club Pioneer baseball league in Idaho, Utah and Montana.

Mount Athletic Setup To Be Investigated

ALLIANCE, Feb. 20—(UP)—The entire athletic program at Mount Union College will undergo a thorough investigation, Dr. Charles B. Ketchum, president of the college announced today.

The survey, to be completed by Oct. 1, will cover all intercollegiate and intramural sports, and the department of physical education.

Committees consisting of faculty members, alumni, trustees, students, and Alliance residents will investigate finance, scheduling, personnel, intramural program, alumni activities, and the board of athletic control.

Bill Cobb holds the major league baseball individual-all-time record for most games played with 3,033 games.

Burke Records Rio Grande Win Moves Into Second In Money Winning Race

HARLINGEN, Tex., Feb. 20—

Gold's tourists rolled on to Houston today for another $10,000 open golf tournament with young Jack Burke, Jr., winner of the Rio Grande Valley open, the little man of the hour.

The boyish son of Houston's famed professional—the late Jack Burke—moves into the city that knows him best as second leading money-winner of the year. He laid down a six-under-par 65, featured by two eagles, on the 6,095-yard Harlingen municipal course yesterday to finish with a record-breaking 72-hole 264 and grab first money of $2000 in the $10,000 Valley Open.

Burke, who registers from White Plains, N. Y., ran his total money winnings for the year to $9,940.

Head of Burke in money-winnings is only Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., with $7,558. Snead isn't playing at Houston. He decided to skip both the Rio Grande Valley and Houston Opens.

Jimmie Demaret of Ojai, Calif., who was second money-winner last week, won only $196.66 here and fell to third place with a total of $4,778.66. Demaret had 272 for a tie for twelfth place.

Burke's 264 was two strokes under the tournament record here, set by Henry Picard in 1941.

STRIKES TO SPARE

Jack Young of Salem rolled into fifth place in the singles of the Eagles' state bowling tournament Sunday, with a 682 mark, including handicap. The tournament concludes next Sunday at Dayton.

The leading scores are: Doubles, Bode and Wish of Cleveland, 1283; singles, L. Macan of Cleveland, 741; team, Conductors of Cheviot, 3082.

Uniform Marking Of Airports Sought

COLUMBUS, Feb. 20—(AP)—The state highway patrol will ask Ohio airport managers to mark all fields uniformly for easier location.

Col. George Mingle said Saturday all airports will be asked to establish a 300-foot circle with a three to four-foot wide rim of wellwashed gravel or other solid material.

Mingle said a survey of the patrol shows the major cause of accidents at Ohio's more than 300 airports is the lack of any marking or identification for approaching aircraft.
